There are times that the spam filters that we use on our email programs and that of our Internet Service Providers can delete mail you are actually requesting to receive, even if your spam filters are set to low. Therefore, you may never see these emails come into your inbox they're going right into your junk or spam mail files, or being held in a file on your server.

The best way to protect your subscription is to ADD the domain name www.sedonasacredlight.com to your list of approved senders.
